CAS' NEXT MEETING

Date: Sunday, August 29, 2004

Time: 3-5 p.m.

Place: Bacino's (private dining room)

75 East Wacker Drive

Chicago (downtown)

CAS' LAST MEETING 7.31.04

Cooperative sunny weather found members joining outdoor café tables, sharing talk, and enjoying breezes from the lake. Discussed were ... the NASAP conference ... members' new jobs and recent publications ... the fact that the Chicago Adlerian Society is now incorporated and can offer CEUs ... ideas for future programs.

Vice President Illeana Nesbitt, who was our rep at NASAP, spoke about the activities and programs other sections offer, including certificates in Adlerian psychology.

Karen Drescher passed around copies of the book she edited with Mark Stone, "Adler Speaks, the Lectures of Alfred Adler." Run out and buy this book – or sit at home and order it off Amazon. It is without a doubt one of the most important books on Adlerian psychology ever published: Adler in his own words, unbelievably easy to understand, and sounding very current. It is unbelievable that these lectures have not been available until now. Found in the Library of Congress, Adler's lectures cover subjects such as "The Science of Individual Psychology," "Mistakes of Childhood," "Adolescence," "The Family Life," "The Problem of Death," and "Psychological Aspects in a Time of Economic Crisis.” Who has complained that Social Interest is difficult to define? It’s all right here. Who has said that Adler did not have a developmental theory. It’s all right here. You will not be able to put this book down!

Have office space to rent, or loan? Contact Barry Isaacson, at organjargon@yahoo.com. (Barry, who holds a MA in counseling from the Adler School, a doctorate in chiropractic medicine, is finishing up his continuing ed CADC).

Overheard over lake breezes. Congratulations to Lester Palmer who spoke on his experiences as a Special Education teacher at Harold Washington College. The APA’s Media section will be publishing Les White’s account of his Dr. Phil-like turn on the popular NBC series “Starting Over.”

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENTS

CAS will be hosting MONTHLY MEETINGS (last weekend of the month)!
Next meeting: Sunday, August 29, 2004, 3-5 p.m., Bacino’s (private dining room), 75 East Wacker Drive, downtown Chicago.

Meet ... Greet ... Eat, Drink if you want

At this meeting, we will discuss future programs and presenters, elections, dues, CEUs, and membership benefits.

To whet your appetite: did you know that over 25 years ago, Ray Corsini trained administrators and teachers at two Chicago area schools in Adlerian methods? Did you know that these programs are still in place? Did you know that they do not advertise and have a waiting list of prospective students? Hear from teachers and administrators who run the programs! To be announced ...
